

Mrs. Charla Faye Jex

July 18, 1963 - January 5, 2024

Mrs. Charla Faye Jex, aged 60, of Clanton, Alabama, passed away on Friday, January 5, 2023, at Shelby Baptist Medical Center.

A celebration of her life will take place at Carr Funeral Home on Tuesday, January 9, 2024, at 7:00 p.m., following visitation hours from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Mrs. Jex is fondly remembered as a perfect wife, loving mother, exceptional shim, and a remarkable teacher.

She is survived by her devoted husband, Brent Jex; daughters, Savannah (Thomas) Bobo, Rachel (Brian) Corujo, Ayla Moore; son, Russell (Lindsey) Jex; grandchildren, Tyler Bobo, Peyton Bobo, Caroline Bobo, Gideon Jex; and sister, Barbara Rutledge McWaters. She was preceded in death by her parents, Sylvanus and Geraldine Rutledge, as well as siblings Richard "Big R" Rutledge, Michael Rutledge, Sylvia Moore, Rhonda Pendley and granddaughter Scarlett Jex.

Described as the "bestest friend anyone could ask for," Mrs. Jex played myriad roles with kindness, a gentle spirit, and an unwavering radiant light that never dimmed.

Even though her presence, voice and loud laugh will be deeply missed, the fact that she is reunited with loved ones in the kingdom of God brings solace.

Imagining her with her perfect granddaughter Scarlett and the seven children she once held running to her to hug her for the first time and share with her their talents and hobbies, surrounded by all the family that her, paints a picture of eternal joy.

She is now with her Heavenly Father, who is immensely proud of her journey, the paths she created, and the lives she changed. She was undeniably one of God's strongest Christian soldiers on earth, she wore the armor of Christ proudly and loudly.

Her legacy is one of strength and faith, and those touched by her life will remember her as an irreplaceable presence, forever grateful for the imprint she left on their hearts.
