“ Just wanted to share one of my special memories of Mike... We were elementary age at best, and Mike already had mastered the guitar. He tried repeatedly to teach me and then he seen it was impossible. So he taught me to strum the guitar while he made the chords. Our favorite song was "I Saw the Light". I would love to have a picture of me and him side by side playing his dad's old guitar. Looking at some of the pictures, its very evident he never lost his touch with kids. I always looked forward to the family reunions and Mike showing up with his ole guitar. My heart is broken, but I know God needed someone to play for the kids in Heaven. (Mark Venable)
